

Reds Will Not Lift Secrecy Curtain On Their Prison Camps

BY ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

MUNSAN, Korea — (P) — The Reds flatly refused today to lift the curtain of secrecy surrounding their prison camps, but said they would okay the rotation of 5,000 troops a month if the allies accept other Communist terms for enforcing a Korean truce.

The limited rotation plan was part of a new six-point Communist proposal which made little impression on allied negotiators. An official U. N. communiqué made no mention of rotation and said the proposal showed "little significant departure from the unacceptable proposal of Dec. 3."

Can't Furnish Lists
In Stockholm, the Swedish foreign office said the U. S. had asked if Sweden would join a neutral inspection commission to help police a Korean truce. It said Sweden has made no decision.

Negotiators had not agreed on how an armistice would be enforced. The allies have indicated they might accept a Communist proposal to use representatives of neutral nations for behind-the-scenes inspections.

Red delegates said international Red Cross inspection of Communist prison camps was "out of the question."

They again refused to turn over lists of allied prisoners unless the U. N. command first accepts the Communist idea of exchanging all prisoners. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby wanted to know why. He asked: "Is it because your list contains just a handful of names and you are ashamed to give it to us?"

The Reds complained the great majority of prisoners held by the U. N. would not be returned if an exchange were made on a man-for-man basis as the allies want.

Blackmail Evident
A U. N. spokesman called the Communist's remark a slip.

A U. N. command broadcast from Tokyo to Korea again charged that the Red secrecy concerning prisoners was "blackmail" to win their armistice demands.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official allied spokesman, said the rotation of 5,000 troops a month, as proposed by the Communists, would be well below the current American rotation level.

There is a possibility the Communists may accept the allied plan for truce inspectors operating under a joint military armistice commission, he said.

Woman, 50, Burned To Death In Detroit Flat; 150 Driven Out

DETROIT — (P) — A woman was burned to death and 150 persons were driven to the street in a Jefferson avenue apartment house fire early today.

The fire was at the Chateau Frontenac at Jefferson and Marquette drive.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the bed of Miss Loretta Hawley, 50, brokerage firm secretary. Miss Hawley was found unconscious on the floor. She had been burned over all her body. She died in a hospital.

It was the second fire in two months in Miss Hawley's room. Previously an oven fire spread through her kitchen when she fell asleep.

Bandit And Officer Shot To Death In Robbery At Detroit

DETROIT — (P) — A blazing gun duel on a darkened street brought death today to a young policeman trying to thwart a jewelry store robbery and an ex-convict awaiting trial on another holdup charge.

The patrolman killed in the pre-dawn shooting was Stanley Jerlecki, 28, the father of two small children.

The dead ex-convict was identified as William Brown, 45, freed from prison six years ago in a "quick justice" case. At the time of his death, Brown was at liberty on $10,000 bond in a November dairy holdup.

Partner Escapes

A partner with Brown on the attempted jewelry store robbery fled as Officer Jerlecki and another policeman approached.

As word of the young officer's slaying spread through the department, police called out reinforcements for an all-out hunt for the missing bandit.

The shootings took place in front of a jewelry store on Seven Mile Rd. in northwest Detroit. Jerlecki and his fellow officer, Patrolman Harold Ross, had spotted the men trying to enter the store at 3:55 a. m.

"We drove to an alley behind the store," Ross said "I ran to the back of the store and Jerlecki drove around to the front."

"When I came around to the front, Jerlecki had a gun on one of the men. The other started to run. I thought Jerlecki had his man under control so I started after the other one."

Losing the fleeing burglar after a short chase, Ross turned back to radio for help. Then he heard the shots.

Egypt And Britain May Settle Dispute

LONDON — (P) — Britain will propose to Egypt that the two nations talk things over and try to cool off their dispute about the Suez Canal and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, informed sources said today.

Despite the Egyptian government's announcement that it had recalled Ambassador Abdel Fattah Amr Pasha from his London Post, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden is expected to suggest that the two governments begin negotiations, either in London or Cairo, for a new treaty dealing with the British-American-French-Turkish middle east defense plans.

There were some indications that the situation was not hopeless in the bitter and often bloody British - Egyptian dispute. The French-language Cairo paper, Journal D'Egypte, which often reflects palace opinion, said the recall of the Egyptian envoy does not mean a full break in diplomatic relations. It said "relations between the two countries will be maintained" even if the British should recall their Ambassador, Sir Ralph Stevenson, from Cairo.

The Journal hinted that there were hopes for settling the dangerous dispute. A meeting between Eden and Egyptian Foreign Minister Salah El Din in Paris next week would help clear the atmosphere and possibly lead to negotiations, it added.

Qualified officials said Eden, when he meets the Egyptian statesman in Paris, next week, will put forward concrete proposals for resuming negotiations with Cairo, looking toward reconciliation.

Teacher, Drops Out Of Sight

BROOKINGS, S. D. — (P) — Wide-spread search for a missing 39-year-old woman English teacher appeared to have reached a dead end today—the sixth day of her disappearance—as authorities admitted, "we don't know where to look."

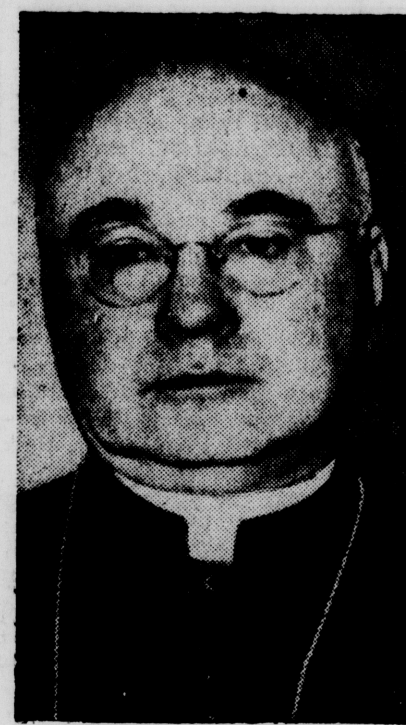

The comely Dr. Barbara Morehead, instructor at South Dakota State college, dropped from sight Sunday when she checked out of a hotel at nearby Marshall, Minn. Since then, there has been no trace of her.

"She is living up to the title we had for her as a 'mystery woman,'" said H. M. Crothers, acting president of the college.

College officials earlier believed they might have had a clue in a bouquet of 16 roses which were reported to have upset Dr. Morehead when she received them a week before she vanished. But her former husband, an Atlanta, Ga., music teacher, dispelled any mystery about those flowers.

Professor Eugenio Prosperini said he had been married to Dr. Morehead for four years, before they were divorced in 1948. He sent the roses, he explained, after learning that his former wife had received her doctor of philosophy degree. She registered as a divorcee when joining the faculty here.

Cabinet Purge Demanded To Clean Up Government

FLIES TO KOREA — Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, has announced that he will fly to Korea to spend Christmas in the United Nations front lines. The Cardinal said he is going at the invitation of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. 8th Army, an invitation which he regards as a "command." He plans to celebrate mass in three front-line sectors on Christmas.

The agent, Jennings Lang, 39, was seriously wounded in the groin and leg and underwent surgery lasting an hour and a half. Miss Bennett said she and Lang had been together on business during the afternoon. She denied any romantic interest in him.

Wanger was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He spent the night in jail and was to be arraigned later today on a similar formal charge or one of assault with a deadly weapon.

A bullet ripped through the left front fender of Miss Bennett's green Cadillac convertible. She was sitting in the car and Lang was standing beside it, talking to her, when the blast came about 5:30 p. m. He doubled over, clutching at his abdomen.

DETROIT — (P) — The State Civil Service commission today ordered an $8,848,000 pay boost for 22,000 state civil service employees.

The boost, effective Jan. 13, reflects the current inflationary trend and the competitive pressure from industrial employers, commission members said.

"This will bring us back to the ranks of the better paying employers, although we will not be in the best paying class," said Arthur G. Rasch, state civil service director.

Rasch said the pay increases will add $27 to $29 a month to the lowest paid state civil service employees. The increases are scaled upwards to $67 to $73 a month for a few top level executives under the civil service program.

"Of the total increase, $5,760,000 will go to 16,000 employees in the lower civil service brackets. Rasch said. These employees now receive less than $265 a month.

Rasch explained the pay increases were a combination "cost of living and competitive adjustment" raise. He said all employees will get a seven per cent cost of living pay increase over their present salaries.

Increase In Prices Authorized For Wood Materials In Mines

WASHINGTON — (P) — Emergency government order today authorized higher prices for wooden mine materials in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The office of price stabilization at the request of the national production authority took the action to encourage greater production of vitally needed iron ore.

The order allows producers and dealers to add 35 per cent to the highest prices they charged for wooden mine materials at the start of the Korean war. The order is effective Dec. 19.

The action affects such materials as wedges, switch ties, cross bars and other mine timbers produced and used in the three states. OPS said the materials have been scarce because timber producers found it more profitable to cut pulp wood, which is in strong demand.

The increase brings prices of mine materials to a level close to that of pulp wood, OPS said.

More Naval Vessels Out Of Mothballs

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Navy is taking a heavy cruiser and two aircraft carriers out of mothballs next month.

The Quincy rejoins the fleet to become the 15th heavy cruiser on active duty.

Hollywood Agent Shot By Jealous Spouse Of Actress Joan Bennett

BY GENE HANDSAKER

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — (P) — Before the horrified eyes of his wife, Joan Bennett, Producer Walter Wanger shot down her agent in a parking lot last night "because he broke up my home."

The greying moviemaker approached the pair as they were chatting and without saying a word fired two shots from a .38 caliber pistol at point blank range.

Romance Denied

The agent, Jennings Lang, 39, was seriously wounded in the groin and leg and underwent surgery lasting an hour and a half. Miss Bennett said she and Lang had been together on business during the afternoon. She denied any romantic interest in him.

Wanger was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He spent the night in jail and was to be arraigned later today on a similar formal charge or one of assault with a deadly weapon.

A bullet ripped through the left front fender of Miss Bennett's green Cadillac convertible. She was sitting in the car and Lang was standing beside it, talking to her, when the blast came about 5:30 p. m. He doubled over, clutching at his abdomen.

Civilian Production To Be Slashed In 1952

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON — (P) — Production of civilian items such as automobiles and refrigerators which are made largely of critical metals will be cut sharply in 1952 because of expanding military output.

That was the emphatic warning of the nation's top mobilization chiefs yesterday. Defense Mobilization Charles E. Wilson put it this way:

"From now on, during 1952, there will be many more guns and much less butter."

More Metal Cutbacks

Wilson told the National Press club that manufacturers of civilian goods will get only about 50 per cent of their usual amounts of three critical metals—steel, copper and aluminum—in the first quarter of next year.

And Manley Fleischmann, defense production administrator and a principal Wilson aide, disclosed at the same time that "substantial" additional cutbacks in metal quotas must be made in April, May and June.

Fleischmann explained that military officials have made big boosts in their demands for strategic metals in the second 1952 quarter.

Idleness Grows

The DPA head said he did not look for much increase in unemployment on a national scale because of the civilian cutbacks but agreed there would be more joblessness in some areas.

He cited Detroit and New England particularly. There already have been sharp protests from

Benton Harbor Blaze Fatal To Two Babies

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. — (P) — Two tiny (Negro) children—a sleeping baby and a little girl who ran back inside a burning house—perished last night in the flaming three-room home.

Killed were Shirley Mae Hines, 4, who dashed into the house after her mother led her outside, and four-month-old Lee Nathan, who had been sleeping near a kerosene stove.

A third child, Joseph, 3, was critically burned.

Pills Kill Baby

DETROIT — (P) — Lonnie Johnson, 20-months-old, died Thursday night after swallowing a dozen pills prescribed for his baby sitter, who suffers from a heart ailment. Mrs. Mary Whitmore, 45, said the child got the pills from her purse.

YOUNGEST YET — President Truman's appointment of George G. McGhee, above, as ambassador to Turkey, will make him, at 39, the youngest American ambassador. McGhee, now assistant Secretary of State, will succeed George Wadsworth, who resigned recently.

Chief Anderson quoted Miss Bennett as saying she told Wanger: "Get away and leave us alone."

Married In 1940
She told the police chief that her relations with her agent were purely business.

"If Walter thinks there is any romance between us," she was quoted by the chief, "he is wrong."

Sid Holtzman, manager of a service station on the parking lot, drove Lang to his doctor's office on Wilshire Boulevard in Miss Bennett's car. She went along.

Two policemen took 57-year-old Wanger into custody on the parking lot.

Wanger and Miss Bennett were married in 1940, in Phoenix, Ariz. She is his second wife.

Thrice married, she is the mother of four children. Diana, now Mrs. John Hardy Anderson, the mother of a three-year-old daughter, is Miss Bennett's daughter by her marriage to John Fox Melinda, 17, was born when the star was married to screen writer Gene Markey.

The Wangers have two children—Stephanie, 8, and Shelley, 3.

SEOUL, Korea — (P) — Red anti-aircraft guns shot down three Allied planes today while MIG-killers American Sabre jets destroyed one Communist jet and damaged three.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said all the Sabres returned safely from their two jet fights over Northwest Korea.

So did two reconnaissance F-80 Shooting Stars that were jumped by six Red MIG-15s near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. The F-80s outmaneuvered and outflung the Red pilots in the much faster MIGs.

In unrelated actions Red flak brought down a Shooting Star, an F-84 Thunderjet and an F-51 Mustang. All three fell in Communist territory.

Fifth Air Force planes flew 663 sorties up to 6 p. m., chopping up Communist transport lines.

Friday's two jet battles came less than 24 hours after the American Sabre pilots scored their greatest all jet victory—13 Red jets downed, two probably destroyed and one damaged.

In a 25 minute battle Friday morning between 48 Sabres and more than 100 MIGs, one Red jet was shot down and two damaged. Another Red jet was damaged in an afternoon scrap.

Editor Fined $2,500
Subsequently a number of classified government documents, chiefly from the state and navy departments, were found in the Amerasia offices. Jaffe, Service and four other persons were arrested on charges of conspiracy to commit espionage.

Jaffe and two others were indicted on a lesser charge—conspiracy to remove government documents illegally. The editor pleaded guilty and was fined $2,500.

But the other three persons, including Service, appeared before the grand jury and it refused to indict them. The diplomat then was re-instated in the foreign service from which he had been suspended.

Third Life In Family Claimed By Suicide At Bancroft, Mich.
OWOSSO, Mich. — (P) — Suicide has claimed a third life in Douglas Berger family in nearby Bancroft.

The body of Mrs. Douglas Berger, 64, was found hanging in the attic of her home yesterday by her 66-year-old crippled husband.

Deputy Sheriff James Pearce said that Berger told him that their son shot himself to death two years ago and that a daughter committed suicide several years before that. In addition, Pearce said Berger told him another daughter disappeared many years ago and never has been heard from.

Reforms Sure To Be Issue In 1952 Elections

Republicans Report People Indignant

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (P) — Republicans met President Truman's assertion he is taking continued action to clean up the government with demands today for cabinet dismissals, a new congressional inquiry and a 1952 election test of the issue.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) expressed doubt last night that the administration "can ever succeed in reforming itself." Taft, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, added in a Cincinnati press conference:

"Nothing President Truman can do now will prevent indignation of the people at what has already occurred."

Promise Not Sincere
In Chicago, the administration theme was carried along in a speech by Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney. He said that where wrongdoing exists it is being uncovered, rooted out and punished by the Democrats.

And Senator Smathers (D-Fla.) said in a statement that the country will emerge stronger and healthier from a cleanup. He said inquiries ought not to be allowed to become "entirely political and selfish."

Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) told a reporter he regards Mr. Truman's declaration of yesterday that he has been acting continuously to keep the government clean as

Snow And Sleet Due In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

A snow and sleet storm was reported sweeping on Michigan today as a cold snap gave promise of moderating.

The U. S. weather bureau warned motorists of likely hazardous driving.

A mixture of snow and sleet, blowing in from the southwest, was due to hit southern Michigan about noon and spread northeast in the state.

This would give Michigan the same kind of rough weather already hitting the Rockies and midcontinent.

The storm came out of the Rocky Mountains and swept over prairie lands into the Mississippi Valley.

The northwest experienced sub-zero temperatures again. Montana had a low of -16. It was 13 below at Bemidji, Minn.

Reduce Aid For School Lunches

Cut-Back In Program For Delta County

The school lunch program in Delta county and elsewhere in the state and nation will soon begin to feel the pinch of reduced federal aid, with the prospect that more local funds must be produced or the quality of the meals lowered.

Hagie Quarnstrom, Delta school superintendent, today said the reimbursement in federal funds for the school lunch program will be cut one cent for all types of meals effective Jan. 1.

The present scale of reimbursement ranges from 7 cents for a Type A meal, with milk; to 2 cents for the least expensive or Type C meal. On Jan. 1 the reimbursement will be cut one cent for all types of meals.

Call Special Meeting
Quarnstrom reported that in the 14 school districts of the county sponsoring school lunch programs there is an accrued deficit to date of $2,250.

The problem of financing the lunch program under the reduced reimbursement scale will be discussed at a special meeting of the Delta County School Board Members association to be held Jan. 8 at Rapid River.

Lunch payment rates for this school year had been established on the basis of last year's reimbursement. Changes will be necessary to meet the reduced aid unless local financing is increased.

Food Cost Big Item
A total of 112,000 meals have been served in the schools of the county in the past three months, Quarnstrom reported. Total expenditure in the county for the program was $27,000 so far, of which $17,000 was spent for food, $7,500 for labor, and the remainder for incidental costs.

Total amount received for the same period was $14,243.19 from the students in payment for meals and $7,789.57 in federal aid.

School officials were reluctant to forecast what will be done in connection with the problem, but they said either more local funds must be forthcoming or the quality of the meals must be reduced.

In one district through the PTA the labor cost is lowered by assigning a volunteer PTA worker to help the school lunch cook.

Cloverland Plans To Offer Course In Speedwriting

Mrs. H. J. McDonough of the Cloverland Commercial College has returned from Chicago where she attended the meetings of the National Association of Schools of Speedwriting. The meetings were held at the Palmer House and were presided over by Mrs. A. L. Sheff, president of the New York School of Speedwriting.

This system has been taught in New York for the past 30 years but it is only within the past year that certain schools were selected to be affiliated with the New York school. The Cloverland Commercial College is the holder of the franchise for this vicinity and it is the only school north of Milwaukee to be selected for this privilege.

Speedwriting is based upon the letters of the alphabet, thereby eliminating tedious memorizing of symbols. It can be learned in a short time—six weeks to attain a shorthand speed of 120 words per minute, Mrs. McDonough reports.

Chorus Sings At VA Hospital

Veterans Entertained By Escanaba Group

Making the trip by chartered bus, the Bay de Noc barber shop chorus last night entertained patients at the Veterans Administration hospital at Iron Mountain in a program of songs and specialty numbers.

The chorus was directed by Sam Ham, and Wallace Cameron of Gladstone acted as master of ceremonies. The Escanaba barber shop quartet sang two groups of numbers, and a visiting quartet from Niagara, Wis., also took part in the program. Cameron demonstrated his skill with the musical saw and cigar box fiddle.

After the show at the hospital the Escanaba-Gladstone singers were guests at a smoker and lunch held at the Iron Mountain Elks club, where an impromptu program was staged by local singers and Iron Mountain talent.

son, Richard and Jesse Denio, Sault Ste. Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Maki of Algonquin, Mrs. Hattie King, Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kasbohm of Whitney attended the funeral.

Summers Back In Jail Today

Father Calls Police When Son Returns

John Summers, 17, is back in the Delta county jail today after his father, Joseph, of 233 North 20th street, turned him over to officers last night following his son's jail break and eight hours of freedom.

Most of the eight hours were spent huddled in a garage on Ogden avenue. The youth entered the garage, locked it on the inside, and stayed hidden there until dark. The family was away for the day.

At 8:15 o'clock last night the father telephoned Deputy Sheriff William Butler to tell him that his son was home and that he would bring him back to the jail.

Police notified state police who had a patrol car in the area and they accompanied the youth and his father to the county jail where, at 11:50 a. m. yesterday the young man had dashed through the door and eluded Deputy Butler.

Summers returned to Escanaba about four months ago from the Boys Vocational School at Lansing where he had been committed by juvenile court.

State police arrested Summers last Monday. He was bound to circuit court on a charge of breaking and entering and is held in jail under $4,000 bond. Circuit court will open in February.

The youth had confessed to state police that he burglarized the Shaw Cleaners in Gladstone where he obtained $10.85 and some clothing; and to entering the Jack Beauchamp home at Flat Rock where $400 was taken. Restitution has been made in both cases.

Noon-Hour Burglar Gets Over $500 From Offices

Offices of four Escanaba doctors were entered yesterday during the noon-hour closing and a total of more than $500 is missing, police reported today.

The "noon-hour burglar" used the same method in gaining entrance to all the offices. A thin blade was inserted through the door frame and to pry back the lock latch.

Narcotics theft was not the motive for the burglaries, said Glen S. Leonard, Escanaba safety director. In one office drugs were ignored although in plain view within a locked safe.

Used Combination
More than $500 was taken from a safe in the office of Dr. Karl Gray, 1221 Ludington.

The office had been ransacked and desk drawers rifled by the burglar. Dr. Gray told police that the safe in the office had been locked, but the combination numbers had been written on a paper in an envelope left in the desk. Police said drugs and gold in the safe were untouched.

Cooperation Promised In Lighting Contests

The Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Escanaba Lions club and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is open not only to residents of the city but to Wells, Groos, Hyde and Ford River as well, Larry Fleming, chairman, has announced.

All former winners in Escanaba have been mailed letters urging their continued participation in the lighting program and Chairman Fleming has asked that all homes do some kind of outdoor Christmas lighting this year. Generous offers of cooperation have been received.

"We want to make the Escanaba area the most beautifully lighted area in the North this year," Fleming said. "If every home cooperated, the total effect would be tremendous."

As an encouragement, all first, second and third place winners in residential, commercial and industrial divisions will receive a colored photograph of their winning display. Plaques also will be awarded in the commercial and industrial divisions for first place winners and in the residential divisions boxes of candy will be awarded to first and second place winners, in addition to the colored photographs.

The north limits of the contest will be the Y, the location of the White Birch cabins.

The residential divisions follow:
Best lighted decorated home entrance.
Best lighted decorated lawn.
Best lighted single story home, using less than 50 bulbs.
Best lighted single story home, using more than 50 bulbs.
Best lighted two story home.

A special contest for clubs, churches and organizations has been established for the best portrayal of the theme, "Bringing Christ Back Into Christmas".

Small Nations Are Unrealistic In Seeking World Development Fund

THE United Nations economic committee moved off the deep end in Paris this week in adopting a resolution proposing the establishment of a huge world development fund.

The resolution was pushed through by the united support of small nations. The big nations voted against it and the United States particularly opposed the proposal. The thought expressed in the proposal is that a huge fund would be created to improve the economic position of peoples all over the world.

The idea may be fine but it disregards reality. The nations of the world are too impoverished to set aside the kind of money that an enormous project of this kind would require. It is quite apparent that

West Imperiled

By "Inevitable War"

DURING and immediately after World War II, hardly a handful of the West's responsible statesmen gave a hint by word or deed that they understood the real aims and character of the Soviet Union.

In this country, there has been a concerted effort by some men to fasten the blame for this colossal misjudgment on a few. The historical record is against them. It was a mistake made by most of those who either fashioned or influenced national policy in that hectic time. And it was not one avoided by leading public figures outside the government.

We and the rest of the West have been paying dearly for this mistake, for imagining that in our wartime Russian ally we had a "democratic pal" who would work with us for world peace in an atmosphere of sweet reasonableness.

There would really be no point in dwelling upon this if we could be sure that all our key policy-makers had learned their bitter lesson and now were treading the path of political wisdom.

But unfortunately signs have appeared that some of our statesmen may have learned their lesson too well. From foolishly accepting the Russian Communists as good-hearted friends, they have turned to viewing them as such implacable enemies that they must in time be crushed by weight of American and Western arms.

In other words, these men, most of them the same ones who grossly misjudged the Russian purpose earlier, are now acting and thinking as if war with the Soviet Union were inevitable.

They are, then, in danger of committing a new mistake of a magnitude to dwarf their original miscalculation of the Communist motive. In their quite honorable zeal to thwart the world-be conquerors in Moscow, in their justifiable horror at the spectacle of Red tyranny, these officials have led themselves to an extreme which can hardly serve the cause of men who would avoid the unutterable destruction of another great war.

We are not proposing here that Russia be given one inch in the struggle to keep men free. But our whole policy today is built upon the thesis that we can stand off the Soviet Union—and still avert war—by creating on the side of free nations a strength too great for the Reds to match.

The trouble is not with that goal. The trouble is with men who pay it lip service but do not believe it attainable. These policy-makers feel in their hearts that the defenses we are now creating, the arms we are casting, will not dissuade the Russians from their aim of conquest. They are convinced those arms will have to be used.

No one can be sure they will not have to be. But the future of this country and its Western friends is not secure in the hands of men who work from the conviction of war's inevitability. The helm belongs to those who recognize the peril but decline to accept that there is no escape. It belongs to men whose faith in freedom AND peace is indestructible.

POWER FOR INDUSTRIAL GROWTH
(Duluth News-Tribune)

Earlier this week the Defense Production administration in Washington granted accelerated tax amortization certificates for Minnesota Power & Light Co. projects at Aurora and Duluth costing more than $18,000,000.

That is a lot of numbers to line up behind a dollar sign, even now, when the dollars represent people's money, not government money. It is a highly impressive figure and doubly so when we recall that every dollar of it is a carefully planned, intelligent bet on the industrial future of this region.

Expenditures of the Minnesota Power & Light Co. for permanent improvements from September, 1945, tell a great deal about this section's rediscovery of itself. The total for the period, 1945 to 1953 is about $41,277,000. Of this about $5,300,000 is being spent this year. The total for next year is estimated at $10,381,000 and for 1953 at $6,308,000.

Expansion on such a scale is the strongest kind of evidence that the industrial growth that we see all around us can be expected to continue, to spread, and to become greater. The needs of electric current for a large number of new homes, for a population demanding more service of this kind are great, but would require no such progna as this. Only industry, of the heavy type, with installations in many parts of this district, would require such an investment in expanded power facilities.

We are going to need the power and we are going to have it. These assurances are a reason for confidence in this part of the world now and for generations to come. More than that we are getting the facilities through the operation of the free enterprise system. American industry is showing that it can foresee the needs of a region and prepare to meet them, and finance the effort through normal channels, without turning the process into an experiment in political pressures.

Millard Hits At

Organized Gambling

ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK G. MILLARD struck a blow against organized gambling in the state by obtaining a temporary injunction restraining the Western Union from leasing its wires and teletype facilities for gambling purposes.

Since the injunction is effective on a statewide basis its force puts a severe crimp in organized gambling in numerous Lower Peninsula cities where betting on horse races was handled through Western Union facilities. It is the type of action at the state level that is essential in meeting a problem of this kind.

Of course, it is slightly ironical that the state is agitated about the use of leased wires for gambling purposes when the state itself legalizes gambling by approval of pari-mutuel betting at state - licensed tracks. In the latter case, of course, the state gets a cut of the take. That makes it a horse of a different color, presumably.

Young In Heart

By Gordon Martin

It's a fact that certain people cannot ever face the truth, that they long since passed the milestone where they said farewell to youth. And they think, despite their wrinkles and their ever-graying hair, they can carry on as youngsters in a manner debonair. But while would-be kids are silly to attempt a youthful part, it is possible to act your age and still be young in heart.

Young in heart—that's what's important to the fellow growing old, and it doesn't mean he dresses in a style that's overbold. And it doesn't mean he tries to do the things that youngsters do, which are better left for newer generations to pursue. But instead it means he faces to the future with a smile, going forward, never backward, as he travels every mile.

Young in heart—that's all important, for it means you keep abreast, of the wonders of the present and their blessings manifest. And it means youthful point of view clearly understand, when you take the time to give a younger chap a helping hand. Then you know the joy of youth again by giving him a start, and you learn that you can act your age and still be young in heart.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—White House advisers report that while the president was at Key West he did not seem too anxious to move boldly toward a corruption clean-up. When he got back to Washington, however, he got much more in a mood to houseclean.

Some of the young men around him felt pretty strongly about the housecleaning and did their best to influence the president. So do Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, a former cabinet member, while new Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney also threw his weight behind a purge.

It was Senator Anderson who first phoned the president at Key West more than three weeks ago urging drastic action.

At first Chief Justice Fred Vinson, though anxious for a clean-up, seemed to think things could be patched up without firing Howard McGrath as attorney general. Senator Anderson, however, disagreed. He told the chief justice that the president would lean on him heavily for advice and that he should recommend drastic measures.

Without a drastic purge, the senator from New Mexico argued, the administration would lose all control over Congress. Vinson seemed to agree.

Note — Chief let-things-alone advocate inside the White House has been Matt Connolly, the president's appointment secretary, whose record of playing favorites would not bear too much congressional scrutiny.

BROKEN MINK MARKET

The other day a high official of the munitions board wanted to buy a small fur piece as a 25th wedding anniversary present for his wife.

Momentarily forgetting the current congressional investigations, he entered Washington swank Erlebacher's and asked to see some fur neckpieces.

"Here is a nice Russian sable at $600 per skin," said the clerk.

"That's too high for me. What else do you have?" said the official.

Then the clerk produced a stone marten fur piece at $335 a skin. The official again shook his head, claiming it was too steep a price, and added:

"Well, don't you make these fur pieces in mink?"

The startled clerk practically had a stroke. Recovering his breath, he finally stammered:

"Mink! Who would buy mink in Washington? The market has been broken—broken in little pieces. There have been no mink sales in Washington for two months."

The chastened official finally settled for a silver comb and brush set.

City Awaits Arrival

Of New Gas Tanks

ESCANABA city officials will be much relieved when the three big gas storage tanks arrive in Escanaba this month. The Bethlehem Steel company, manufacturers of the big tanks, has informed the city that the tanks are completed now and about ready for shipment. Delivery is expected before New Year's.

The tanks are essential to the city's gas conversion project. For some time there has been apprehension that governmental agencies with high priorities for defense needs would commandeer the tanks. That may still happen, of course.

Arrival of the tanks in Escanaba will save a lot of worrying. Also, it means considerable in dollars to the gas utility because the conversion to propane gas will mean a substantial savings to the city and to the gas users.

"I Choose America"

Ohio Mother Who Turned Down English Estate Makes Reply To British Critics

By MRS. JAMES N. GAPE
As told to Doyle F. Smoe
NEA Staff Correspondent
CAYAHOGA FALLS, O. — (NEA)—Lots of people gave the Gapes free advice when we were in a quandary over whether to move to England to qualify for Cousin Sibyl's inheritance.

Much of it was good, much of it mercenary and some of it from sheer crackpots.

But it was a woman newspaper writer in the London Daily Express who really set my blood

Editor's Note: Mrs. James N. Gape is the wife of the Cuyahoga Falls, O., valve salesman who interited $270,000 from an English cousin—but only on condition the Gapes move to England and live on the old estate that had been in the family for 500 years. The Gapes' tentative rejection of their English inheritance in favor of a comfortable suburban home and an American upbringing for their children touched off a wave of criticism from England—criticism which inspired Mrs. Gape to tell "Why I Choose America."

boiling with her scathing comments that appeared under the heading, "So Mrs. Gape wouldn't live in England—at any price!"

It set me burning at first, I should say—because, after my original "I'm-scratching-her-eyes-out" reaction, the article really set me to thinking.

I might explain that the clipping was given me by a gracious neighbor, who held it until several weeks after the "storm"—a storm that included not only our tough decision over the will, but a set-to with measles, mumps and the birth of our third baby.

The neighbor figured that the English newspaperwoman's comments would just upset us more.

She was right.

"No, Mrs. Gape," the British lady wrote, "America wouldn't be my choice."

"Not for me a daughter who is a specimen of that astonishing phenomenon, American womanhood—the best dressed and the most spoiled, the best looking and worst educated, the broadest smiles and the worst cooks..."

Wow!...spoiled...worst educated...I'll have her know I'm a good cook—and, what's more, most of the young housewives I know are, too.

The last paragraph was the clincher, however. It said: "But they (that's the Gapes) plumped in the end for the country that believes absolutely in creating something new—but perhaps has not learned the pleasure of keeping alive something old."

Maybe she has something there. Maybe here in America we HAVE failed to keep alive that "something old." Maybe that's why our papers have so many stories about tax scandals and other dishonesty in government, about gambling fixes of sports events, shocking dope and sex stories involving our youngsters.

Maybe it's why public morals have sunk so low, why the morale of our country has sagged, why Americans are confused and unhappy in the midst of plenty.

We've moved so fast to get so much that we've thrown overboard our great traditions, dishonored our nation's founding fathers. Men like Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln had so much that was good—still good today—but the school children hardly encounter it, and by the time they're grown the names are just something out of history books.

I think we need in America, more than anything else, a good example. Something unassailable and above reproach. The English have it in their royal family. We don't have anything like it. As a result, we're groping blindly for something, and we can't tell for sure what it is.

The family here in America isn't what it used to be. The tendency is to let the children take command, run things to suit themselves. And where could you find worse tyrants than among undisciplined, over-coddled kids? They manage this better in England, too. I must admit.

It was a real experience for me to see my two youngsters (there are three now) react to our Aunt Kitty when we went to England early this year. Aunt Kitty is a stately person, dignified, somewhat like Queen Mary.

David and Gracie were crazy about her. But, they were awed by her too, and treated her with great respect. It was the sort of respect Aunt Kitty was accustomed to receive from English children of their age.

To me, it pointed up the difference in training youngsters get in a well-run, everything-on-schedule English household, compared to the hurry-scurry, hair-pulling, kids-in-command rat-race that sometimes passes for the American home.

Don't get me wrong, please. I'm not running down this great country of ours. It's the greatest in the world, to be sure. And don't forget the Gapes chose it in preference to sizable fortune in England. But, still, I think there are Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

OF GOOD TASTE—President Truman, who once laughed heartily at Press club gibes concerning his ability at the piano, now considers it "bad taste" for the Pasadena (Calif.) Junior Chamber of Commerce to burlesque the administration's piano, mink coat and deep freeze aspects. This sudden regard for the properties is most encouraging.

It may signify, for example, that the president sincerely regrets his unrehearsed reply, including unprintable epithets, addressed to a critic of his daughter's singing; and that he may apologize to the Washington columnist whose ancestors he described in most unflattering terms. Not only that, but the columnist also was a liar, said he.

These expressions of opinion, perhaps made in all honesty and with basis in truth, nevertheless are in bad taste. Therefore the president's new attitude arouses hope that he will in the future conform more closely to the Emily Post rules of etiquette.

BOUGHT AND SOLD — It should be pointed out with equal candor that the Junior Chamber of Commerce first asked permission of the White House before constructing a piano-mink coat-deep freeze float. The float was to be entered in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses parade.

The Jaycees were advised that President Truman felt that "most people viewing the float such as you proposed would consider it in very bad taste."

About the same time as this exchange of telegrams took place, the president was described as "angry" on another score.

This was the current internal revenue service mess in which more than 100 officials—both high and low—have been fired for scandalous tax fixes.

The president was not only angry but feels he has been "sold down the river" by disloyal government employees.

This attitude of hurt surprise, with the claim that he has been wronged (or "sold down the river" is astonishing to the people of the United States. They more than anyone else have been betrayed.

MORE THAN LAUGHTER — Granted that burlesquing the president and his administration is traditional in this country, we agree—but for a different reason—that such tactics are "in very bad taste."

It was extremely bad taste, for example, when the Harding administration was cracked wide open by the Teapot Dome oil scandal.

Today it is equally bad taste for the Truman administration to be caught with its tax fix scandals showing as the critical election year 1952 draws near.

Most flagrant example of bad taste, of course, is that officials in government become so corrupt they must be investigated, indicted, discharged.

The acceptance of bribes—whether dollars, mink coats, or deep freezers—is a bit of criminal tastelessness too shocking to be funny.

RESPONSIBLE PARTY — President Truman in the past has been quick to denounce his political enemies and slow to renounce his political friends.

This administrative characteristic of the nation's chief executive no doubt gave the federal tax service people (all political friends of the president) a sense of security.

The late Warren G. Harding of Teapot Dome memory was held responsible for the corruption in his administration; President Truman must likewise assume the responsibility for the dishonesty a Senate investigating committee exposed in the administration's tax service.

The whole affair is in very bad taste indeed. Small wonder the president is annoyed by proposals to picture him as a piano player surrounded by mink coats and deep freezers.

Power With Words

BUSINESS LETTERS NEED NOT VIOLATE GOOD USAGE

To my notion it is less offensive to hear someone say, "He hadn't ought to do that," than it is to receive a letter that begins, "Reference is had to yours of the 15th." At least the speaker misuses the language unconsciously and through sheer ignorance; the writer has laboriously tried to create an impression of knowledge, and thereby calls greater attention to his ignorance. No meaning of the word "had" (or "have") warrant its use in such a construction.

Almost as bad is the letter that begins, "Your letter of Dec. 12th received and contents noted. In reply would state..." Such discourtesy is inexcusable. There is no reason in the world why it could not begin, "We have received your letter of the 12th." Then the reply can begin without further preamble.

Naturally you have noted the contents of the one you received or you would have no reply to make. It's hardly necessary to name the month, for the reply is most likely to be within the same month. The expression, "In reply would state," is wholly unnecessary. Your letter is the reply, so go ahead and say what you have to say. In other words, a simple courteous opening is even shorter than the usual opening of a "business letter," and is much more likely to create friendly feelings.

Someone within the past twenty-five years or so had what he thought was a brilliant idea and created the symbol or character (certainly not word) "and/or," and people have been wondering what it means ever since. The dictionary explanation is, "either 'and' or 'or'." One finds it chiefly in legal documents, but it has also made its way into the business world.

One thing in favor of our monkey ancestors—they did their chattering in trees, not in movie houses.

Breaking open a wormy nut doesn't exactly come under the head of a wise crack.

It's surprising the number of young men who are incapable of raising a mustache, says an English writer. So they have to take it on the chin.

Ruark Muses On Tax Scandal

Will Be Factor
In Elections

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—You can get sort of fascinated with the pictures of Mr. T. (for Theron) Lamar Caudle, that sweet, sweet thing, a-going through his agonies as they grill him to a turn. The theater has suffered for new talent, and not since John Barrymore got his leg amputated in "Moby Dick" has a man exuded anguish so notably as T. Lamar (pronounced see-moan see-moan).

It is exciting theatrical news that a govt. tax atty. can exceed the Thespian excesses of a departed matinee idol, because the excess of excesses is supposed to be naughty under the law, and punishable by excessive excess taxes. (In a short note to the desk, all them excess words are supposed to be there, due to ignorance, if nothing else.) But it looks to me like the voluble Carolinian done gone and went and lost the election as a perfect symbol of what's happened to the ship of state.

If we can drop T. Lamar's argot for a second, and creep into the facts, they would seem to be these: many and many a sin have been committed by the pack of freebooters who operate in Washington, but mostly they have been fairly complicated sins, open to argument. But the tax thing has hit everybody where they live.

We Know Taxes
We cannot understand a billion here, a billion there, because so few of us deal in billions that they just represent a long line of zeros. We cannot understand the intricacies of the atom. We cannot understand the deviations, both politically and sexually, of the state department. We cannot understand inside military-political monkeyshines. The good Lord knows we cannot understand what has transpired with prices and ceilings and economics in general, because it is a solid cinch the people who perpetrate them do not understand them, either.

But there is one thing we know, from Natchez to Mobile, and Memphis to St. Joe. Taxes we know. I know 'em, because I owe 'em. You know 'em. You know 'em because they squeeze 'em right out of your tired old take-home, and you never get through the one year without fretting about the next.

And just the other day we had a raise in them sweet, sweet things. You took home less. The luxury taxes on, well, say such things as fur coats, were fabulous. The oil for baby, and that necessary accountment for all women, the handbag—taxes, taxes, everything cost you more. And bless gawd, honey, as ah live heah and breathe, they's been mo' funny businesses about other people's tax money than a feller'd care to shake a stick at.

Looks mighty like we ain't got nothing much but thieves in the high places of the tax grabbers—just a-grabbin' and a-grabbin' your money for the government to spend, and then lettin' the big friendly thieves off'n the hook. Ah declare to goodness, every time I pick up the paper, it seem like they got another feller caught fin-aglin'. Finaglin' with our money and makin' it easy for the big boys. Seems like that Greek found an honest man easier than we can. Ain't heard nobody holler "Eureka!" in days.

A Sad Awakening
I hate this lapsing back into Caudlerese every now and again, but it seems to fit the script. We have just taxed a nation into poverty, and nearly destroyed incentive, and suddenly we find that the whole collection agency is rotten clear through. Or th'ough, depending on where you come from. We can forget, I imagine, most of the other stuff, but this one sticks. No amount of slick talk can live it down. This is one that no rampage on the television can cure. It is prime parcel with Harry's Aloha shirt that adorned Life magazine's cover the other day. That shirt and the tax scandals are the worst things that have happened to the Democratic party. That and Mr. T. Lamar (pronounced see-moan see-moan) Caudle.

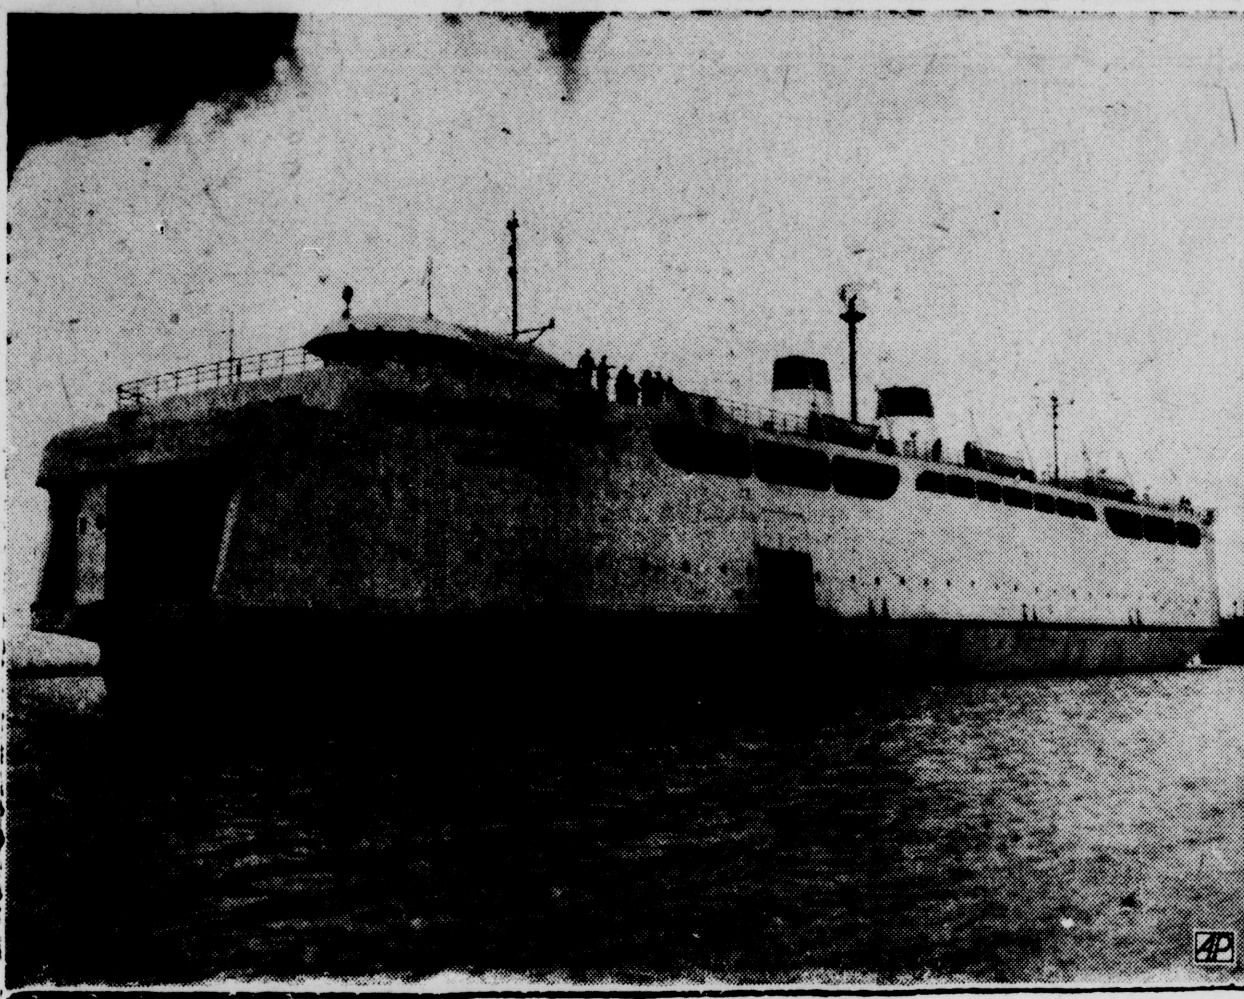

Come fall we are bound to think of Harry's shirts and Harry's friends, and how much we owe the tithe collectors retroactively, and where the money went, and why didn't we know somebody in high places, and why the man cut the vacation short. And this we shall remember, because it hurt us on the hip. Oh, Mr. Caudle, that anguish in your rubber face was not misplaced. The slogan of the present party is pronounced easily: "See-moan. See-moan."

The Angel Chorus

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

St. Lawrence Seaway Approved By Canadian House Of Commons

OTTAWA—(AP)—The St. Lawrence seaway—a 27-foot deep, $300,000,000 canal on the Canadian-American border that would open the Great Lakes to ocean shipping—won final approval from Canada's House of Commons.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where passage is regarded as a formality. Both major parties—the ruling Liberals and the opposition Progressive-Conservatives—backed the bill in the House.

Under the bill, a Crown company will be set up to go ahead with building the seaway even if the United States does not cooperate. The government hopes to have the job going by 1953.

Canada and the United States signed an agreement in 1941 for joint development of the canal and hydro-electric power. Congress has refused in almost every session since to ratify the pact. The House of Representatives shelved the latest bill two months ago, but renewed efforts for U. S. ratification are expected in the next session.

No Wire For Yule Light Fixtures This Season, Utility Official Says

A shortage of weather-proof outdoor wire is apparently going to make it impossible to light plastic Christmas fixtures recently installed on light standards in the business areas, it is announced.

Fred Williams, local manager for the Edison-Sault Electric company, said yesterday that it would require about two miles of wire to light the fixtures.

Wire used last season in lighting the fixtures has been diverted to other necessary electric service installations, and it is impossible to obtain any additional wire for the Christmas lights, he said. Wire offered by the National Guard armory, it is reported, is not suitable for the fixtures. Electric wiring is now on high priority and it requires approximately 14 months to get an order filled, Williams said.

The same number of colored cross strings of lights will be used this year as last, however, it is announced. Several were put up over a week ago and the rest of them were scheduled for installation yesterday and today.

Already up are double cross strings at the corner of Walnut and Cedar and Oak and Cedar. Single strands are up at Houghton and Deer, Mackinac and Deer, and Third and Deer. The community Christmas tree also is lighted.

Slated for installation yesterday and today were single cross strings of colored lights at Maple and Oak, Main and Cedar, across Cedar midway between Main and Walnut, across River near the city hall, across Deer near Weston avenue, and across Deer midway between Weston and Mackinac.

The light strands, owned by the city, are being put up by the Edison-Sault Electric company without charge.

$11,200 To Be Given Local Employees

Gift checks will be accompanied by a Christmas greeting from Charles R. Van de Carr, jr., president of the Mead firm. The gift was voted by Mead's board of directors in remembrance of the holiday season and in appreciation of the work accomplished by employees during the past year, the local manager reported.

Employees in the armed forces also will receive an additional gift from the company. Hentschell said. "Each of our servicemen is being sent a leather billfold with his name stamped on it. We hope it will remind him that all of us here at Mead are thinking of him."

The evening closed with the drawing of gift-wrapped white elephants.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Dick Berger of Manistique dropped a note to say that he saw the Manistique-St. Joe game the other night and thinks Pete Kutches is one of the best players he has ever seen. . . . However, he says that Kutches was credited with 22 points in the game—including a basket made by Lake, Emerald center—which he is not entitled to. . . . We checked with Coach Tom St. Germain and found out that the extra basket was credited to John Martinac, Trojan game captain.

Actually, as Berger points out, the basket does not belong to any player on the St. Joe team. . . . The high school ruling on the situation calls for a footnote to the box score explaining that a player made a basket in the wrong court. . . . The two points are merely added to the opponents' total. . . . We were out of town Saturday night and missed seeing the game, but from all reports it was a top-notch contest.

Speaking of St. Joe the Trojans are hitting the hoop at the hot-test pace in the Upper Peninsula this season. . . . In three games the Trojans have accounted for 225 points, an average of 75 per outing. . . . Kutches, of course, has the best individual average in the Peninsula with his 99 counters in three games. . . . And while we're on the subject of basketball teams, here's an oddity. . . . Coach Bob Tacker's Hermansville Redskins have won two and lost three to date. . . . In both the winning efforts Hermansville had a single-point margin of victory.

Harold Valentine of Escanaba gave the local Golden Gloves boxers a nice present the other day. . . . He donated a good punching bag and rack to the gym at the North Escanaba fire station. . . . It's one that Jimmy Valentine, former Glover, used for training a few years ago. . . . That makes two light bags at the training center now.

Bill Hayes Named Manager Of Tigers Buffalo Farm Team

DETROIT — (AP)—A. W. (Bill) Hayes will be general manager of the Detroit Tigers' new farm club at Buffalo.

Hayes, 33, was promoted to the International league club after two years as general manager of the Temple (Texas) team.

The appointment was announced yesterday by Farm Director Herold (Muddy) Ruel.

Ruel appointed Jack Tighe as field manager of Buffalo last week.

The American League Tigers recently purchased Buffalo, after selling its triple-A American Association farm club at Toledo, O.

Coach Eldon Keils' charges have looked better in practice this week and apparently are 'finding' themselves. Various combinations of players have been used in workouts in an effort to find one that clicks.

This Keil believes he has found and he indicated that he would start Roger Beauchamp and Lowell LaPlant at guards, Martin Becker, jr., at center and Capt. Tom Moreau and Norman Boutillier at forwards. Another combination has Harold Goodyear at guard with Beauchamp pairing with Boutillier at forward.

The Mustangs have been having a good year, dropping its first game to Ishpeming recently. Gladstone won from Bark River and then lost to St. Joseph of Escanaba and also to Manistique.

There will be a preliminary between the Bee teams of both schools, starting at 7.

Evan Kelly and Mink St. Germaine, Marquette, will officiate.

Chuck Davey TKOs Taylor For 28th Straight Pro Win

GRAND RAPIDS — (AP)—Chuck Davey, Michigan's welterweight hope, had his 28th professional victory without a defeat under his belt today.

Davey, the former NCAA welter champ who fights out of Lansing, scored a technical knockout over the veteran Chuck Taylor of Coalport, Pa., in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder before 3,500 fans here last night.

Taylor, who has fought some of the best, including Sugar Ray Robinson, was the most experienced foe Davey has met. The former Michigan State boxer, however, handled his assignment with finesse. Taylor hadn't been credited with a round when the fight was stopped to save him further punishment.

Davey weighed 144½ and Taylor 148½.

That all-star games for high school seniors should be abolished;

That lavish entertainment for high school stars should be prohibited;

That football should be played only from September until April 1; and

That basketball should be played only from Dec. 1 to March 1.

On the other hand, the presidents reached no agreement on many of the tricky questions in connection with recruiting and subsidizing. Nor have they decided how long, or how short, spring football practice should be.

College Presidents Favor Abolition Of Bowl Clashes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The men who run the Bowl games and some of the men who direct college athletic programs let it be known today they don't think much of a football de-emphasis program laid down by ten college presidents.

The presidents, members of a special committee set up by the American Council on Education, to study what's wrong with college sports, recommended these strong measures:

1. Abolition of all bowl games.
2. Barring of freshmen from varsity sports.
3. Refusing alumni and other booster groups permission to give scholarships directly to athletes.

Say Hands Off

Three hours after the president's program was announced yesterday, Southeastern Conference athletic directors, in session at New Orleans, voted "almost unanimously" to tell the college presidents to keep their hands off the bowl policies of that conference.

Representatives of the Rose, Cotton and Orange bowls questioned, in varying degrees, the wisdom of necessity for the presidents' anti-bowl proposal. A Shrine bowl representative said he was sure they weren't after this charity game. No one commented for the Sugar bowl.

Professor H. P. Everett of the University of Washington, acting as official spokesman for the Pacific Coast conference, said his group "is way ahead" of the college presidents who spoke up in Washington.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of their recommendation was the method suggested for enforcing their proposals, which were set forth by Dr. John Hannah of Michigan State.

Academic Penalties

In the past a school which violated athletic restrictions usually has had to answer to some conference or the national collegiate athletic association (NCAA).

Under the presidents' proposal, Dr. Hannah said, "reasonable athletic behavior" would be considered a part of the school's academic setup. If a school got out of bounds, he said, it would jeopardize its academic standing.

The five accrediting associations in the country—the north central, the middle states, the New England, the northwest and the southern—already keep an eye on academic standards.

"This way we can take care of the policing," Hannah said, "without setting up a new agency."

The council has no power to influence a decision, but Hannah said its prestige is so great that anything it decides has significance for educators.

Expect Acceptance

Hannah seemed to think the plan would be accepted.

"The land grant colleges," he said, "include some of our most important institutions. They approved it before they even knew what was in it."

The presidents' proposals were announced at a news conference. Hannah said they may not be in written form for a month, and that the presidents still haven't agreed on several important questions.

Lathrop A. Leishman, chairman of the Rose Bowl Football committee, said the proposal "won't cure the evils in college athletics."

"Regardless of whether bowl games are played or not," he said, "there will always be the battle for conference titles and the cases of eager alumni who want to win the 'Big' games."

The Sugar Bowl president, Charles Zatarain, had no comment to make, and Howard Grubb, secretary of the Cotton bowl, agreed that steps should be taken to eliminate pressures created by bowl games.

But, Grubb added, the Southwest conference, of which he is also secretary, "wouldn't be sponsoring the Cotton bowl if he did not think bowl games were all right."

Stuart W. Patton, president of the Orange bowl, suggested that each school make its own decision on bowl games.

Other Proposals

The college presidents will meet in Washington again January 6 and 7 and possibly will complete their study at that time.

After they have completed their report, the executive council of the American Council on Education must approve it. What would happen then is anybody's guess.

The presidents had other recommendations to make aside from their principal suggestions regarding bowl games, freshmen and

Walcott Finally Hits Jackpot With Ringdom's Richest Prize

By FRANK ECK

AP Newfeatures Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Boxing championships in 1951 changed hands faster than a plugged nickel at a carnival. There were three different rulers in both the middleweight and welterweight divisions.

Ezzard Charles, considered the classicist of the current heavyweights, lost his crown when he put it on the line once too often against that creaking veteran, Jersey Joe Walcott, who admits to 37 years.

Ray Robinson, the fightingest champion of all, was forced to give up his welterweight crown because of the weight problem and because he ended Jake La Motta's reign as middleweight king. Then Robinson lost the 165-pound crown to Randy Turpin in London but regained it when Turpin, a British Negro, came to America.

In line with the sport's surprises, an unheralded New York Negro, James Carter, gave Joe Williams a solid thumping to take the lightweight title. It was Williams' first title defense in 17 months.

The surprise to end surprises, however, was Walcott's victory over Charles. Walcott, in his fifth try for the title, was accorded little chance, being a 6 to 1 underdog in the betting. He had been beaten by Joe Louis on a questionable decision and then knocked out by the Bomber. And he had lost to Charles in Chicago in 1949 and again to Ezzard earlier this year in Detroit.

But in Pittsburgh the old man of the ring came to life. With a terrific left hook to the jaw he put Charles down for the count in 55 seconds of the seventh round. In the emotional reaction to his amazing success, Walcott nearly fainted.

Ironie part of the bout, held outdoors in Forbes Field on July 18, was that it was arranged as a charity spectacle. It drew 28,272 fans who paid $245,004. The Dapper Dan Club of Pittsburgh received 10 per cent.

In signing for the bout, Walcott had agreed, in the event he won, to defend within 90 days against Charles. But when Jersey Joe thought it over and recalled all the poverty he had faced in his 21 years of professional fighting he decided to rest on his laurels.

It was a different Jersey Joe Walcott the night he fought heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles for a third time. Here Walcott forces Charles to cringe in their title bout in Pittsburgh. Walcott won the crown with a seventh round knockout.

Walcott failed to make one title defense, or even a non-title showing. Chances are he will fight Charles outdoors next summer, if he fights at all. He has been idle since last July, preferring to cash in on personal appearances.

Next in the line of surprises was Robinson's setback at the hands of little known Randy Turpin. It was called boxing's biggest upset in a quarter of a century when Turpin won in London. It was Robinson's second defeat in his career.

Two weeks previous in Berlin, Robinson had ducked under the ring to avoid being hit by bottles and other missiles tossed by irate German fans after a referee disqualified Robby for hitting Gerhard Hecht in the kidneys. The bout was called "no decision."

The return Robinson-Turpin bout had more than reaction than any bout since 1938 when 70,000 saw Louis knock out Max Schmeling in a return meeting. Robinson-Turpin fought in the Polo Grounds before 61,370 fans who paid $767,626. Plus $250,000 for motion pictures and theatre-television, the bout went down in ring annals as the ninth million-dollar fight attraction.

Robinson, fighting savagely to regain the title, stopped Turpin in two minutes and 52 seconds of the 10th round.

After Robinson quit the 147-pound class, Johnny Bratton of Chicago was named NBA welterweight champion. The New York boxing board concurred when Bratton gained a split decision over Charley Fusari in Chicago.

Bratton, however, held the crown for only two months. In May he lost a unanimous but dull 15-round decision to Kid Gavilan of Cuba in Madison Square Garden. They met again in Chicago in November in a 10-round non-title bout and Bratton, though outclassed, gained the benefit of home town crowd reaction and got a draw. The fans thought Bratton had won but the experts were unanimously for Gavilan.

Rams Favored In Packer Contest On Coast Sunday

LOS ANGELES — (AP)—Los Angeles Rams will face the Green Bay Packers as two touchdown favorites in their National League football game here Sunday.

But victory will mean little to the Rams unless their neighbors to the north, the San Francisco 49ers, topple the Detroit Lions.

A win here, a 49er win there, would give the Rams either clear title to the National conference crown or at least a tie with the Chicago Bears if the Bears whip the Chicago Cardinals.

Disposing of the Packers comes foremost, and it could be on the difficult side if Green Bay plays as it did against Los Angeles last October in Milwaukee. Green Bay held the vaunted Ram attack scoreless for the better part of three quarters before succumbing, 28-0.

Detroit Lion Coach Climbs Out On Limb

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)—Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions climbed out on a long, thin limb today. But he has been out there before and had his young, talented Lions snatch him safely back.

Detroit can win the National conference title in the National Football league by beating or tying the San Francisco 49ers here Sunday.

The 49ers, incidentally, gave the Lions a 20-10 football lesson in Briggs stadium at Detroit two weeks ago.

But Parker, in a statement strange to his trade said today: "I feel that our squad can play the football required to win against the 49ers."

Polishing Tricks

Then he set about at the Lions' camp in nearby Ignacio to work on both outsmarting and outmaneuvering devices. The Lions scheduled a spirited final pregame workout, devoted to polishing all the tricks-of-the-trade that Parker knows.

Former Pitcher For Indians Is Seeking Money

CLEVELAND — (AP)—Ex-pitcher Don (No Hit) Black was winning a big contest today with his old employers, the Cleveland Indians.

The Indians, says the regional board of the Ohio Industrial commission, owe Don some money for the injury that knocked him out of baseball.

Black collapsed at the plate during a game with the St. Louis Browns Sept. 13, 1948, and for five weeks lay unconscious with a brain hemorrhage.

So earlier this year, Black, now an office worker at the Lakeside Steel Improvement Co., applied for disability payments. The regional board of the OIC says he rates: A maximum of $25 a week for the time he was unemployed plus all hospital expenses not previously paid by the club. If he suffers from the injury again, the disability payments would resume.

The ball club, however, may appeal the decision with the commission.

Black pitched a 3 to 0 no hitter over the Philadelphia Athletics on July 10, 1947.

Emeralds Travel To Menominee On Saturday Night

MANISTIQUE—The Emeralds take to the road again this weekend, playing their final pre-holiday game at Menominee Saturday night.

The game is scheduled for 8:30 EST, with reserves of the two schools meeting at 7 EST.

Coach Robert Hussey yesterday announced the following starters for Manistique: Lake, center; Hough and Wilson, forwards; and McNamara and Hinkson, guards. St. John is still out with an injury received in practice and may be unable to play until after the holidays.

Can't Hit

Other varsity players going on the trip are Ekdahl, Bouschor, Scharstrom, Cummings, Richards and Ketchik. Both teams will leave about noon Saturday.

Coach Hussey is still worried about the marksmanship of his men who are able to click on the floor but can't seem to make a proper percentage of their shots pay off. Against both Gladstone and St. Joe the Emeralds missed too many shots, some of them short dog shots, and practice this week has been concentrated on finding a cure for the situation.

The first game in 1952 will be at Newberry on Jan. 4. The next home game will be here on Jan. 11 against the Canadian Sault.

Red Wings Open Wide Margin At Top Of League

(By The Associated Press)

The traffic at the bottom of the National Hockey league was still pretty heavy today, but the Detroit Red Wings were making it a one-team runaway at the top of the standings.

At Detroit last night, the Red Wings bounced their nearest rivals—the Toronto Maple Leafs —3 to 1, and opened up a six-point margin over the second place club.

In the league's only other game, the Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens battled to a 1-1 deadlock at Chicago. This moved the Hawks up to a fifth place tie with the New York Rangers.

Standings

Now, Chicago and New York have 21 points, while Montreal has 22 points. Boston has 26 points in third place, while Detroit with 37, tops Toronto's 31. The first four teams at the end of the regular season will battle for the Stanley Cup in the playoffs.

With Detroit and Toronto tied at 1-1, the Red Wings won their first victory on home ice this season over the Leafs as Marty Pavelich and Benny Woit scored in the second period.

Boom Boom Geoffrion scored first for Montreal, at 17:14 of the opening period. It appeared as if that would stand up, but at 17:42 of the final stanza, Bill Gadsden beat Goalie Gerry McNeil of the Leafs for the tying goal.

The Detroit-Toronto game was rough all the way with the referee dishing out 12 penalties, seven against Toronto. But there was no outbreak of fist-fighting as in Toronto's last Detroit appearance.

It was a close-checking contest, the Wings holding Toronto to only 14 shots at goal. Detroit made 27 tries. Tim Horton and Tony Leswick went to the penalty box for one mild roughing episode and Ted Kennedy and Marcel Pronovost for another.

Matthews Knocks Out Art Henri In Two Rounds

OMAHA — (AP)—Light Heavyweight Harry (Kid) Matthews scored a second round knockout over Heavyweight Art Henri here last night and today his manager was New York bound to talk about "a big fight" for the Kid.

Hurley said he would leave early today for New York on "a matter of importance."

Hurley parried questions about whether he meant a talk with International Boxing club representatives about a fight for Matthews with the light heavyweight title holder, Joe Maxim.

"After all," Hurley said, "we're interested in the heavyweight title, too."

Matthews disposed of Henri in his best fashion. He kept the New York Negro back-tracking through the bout. A right-cross to the chin finished Henri at 2:17 of the second.

It was Matthews' 13th knockout of the year and 67th consecutive fight without a loss.

Al's Tavern Cagers Invade Cooks Sunday

Al's Tavern takes to the road Sunday for an independent cage clash with the Cooks Bombers at Cooks.

The two teams met here three weeks ago with the Bombers taking the decision. The game Sunday night will begin at 8:15.

A preliminary will match the St. Ann's juniors against Cooks seventh and eighth graders at 7 o'clock.

Bark River And Baraga Parochial Tangle Tonight On St. Joe Court

The Bark River Broncos will provide the cage attraction in Escanaba tonight, taking over the St. Joe gym to entertain the Baraga Parochial team from Marquette.

Coach Stan Wiinikainen's Broncos are fresh from a 35-33 win over Perkins last week and will be seeking to stretch the streak to two. The Perkins win was the first of the season for Bark River.

Coach Wiinikainen plans on a revised lineup to open against Baraga. The new strategy calls for more use of Harold Charbonneau at a forward post. Charbonneau will pair off with Dave Kwarciyan or Allan Schoen. Joe LaVigne will open in the center slot and Jack Good and Ken Him get starting assignments at the guards.

Baraga Winsless

This will be the final game for the Broncos before Christmas holidays. They return to action Jan. 4 at Rapid River.

Baraga is winless in two starts this season. The Parochials dropped a 31-30 verdict to their intra-city rivals, Marquette Pierce, in the opener and then fell 53-51 to the Crystal Falls Trojans. However, the team has had a two-week rest since the Crystal Falls game and may come up with a more polished crew.

The game will begin at 8:30 and will be preceded by a preliminary game between the Bee teams at 7. Romeo Perron and team from Manistique will officiate.

Wolverines Open Hockey Series With Toronto U.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan's hockey squad, which has scored 24 goals in winning two of three games, faces further tough opposition here tonight in the first of a two-game series with University of Toronto.

Rated as potentially the best sextette in Michigan hockey history, the Wolverines are playing a severe early season schedule involving the two top Canadian collegiate teams.

Last weekend, Michigan split with a finesseful University of Montreal team after trouncing Michigan State 11-1.

And past history indicates Toronto spells trouble. The Wolverines have won five and tied one in a 17-game series with Toronto and last year split in two games.

Golden Glovers To Continue Workouts At Fire Station

With six candidates already on the squad, the Delta county Golden Glovers boxing team continues workouts at the North Escanaba fire station this evening at 7.

Training equipment is being installed in the upstairs gym to accommodate the fighters. A training ring, two light bags and two heavy bags will be erected this week.

The Delta county boxers, training under Ray Crandall, will work out three nights each week until tournament time late in January.

Workouts are scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

A standing invitation to join the squad has been issued to all prospective boxers in the county.

Bowl Teams May Be Ousted From Grid Conference

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—The Southern Conference began its annual meeting here today and the future of the sprawling 17-member circuit apparently was riding on the outcome.

Of major importance was the possible expulsion of two members—the University of Maryland and Clemson college—for defiance of a ban on post-season football games approved in September by member school presidents.

Also anticipated is a proposal to divide the conference into northern and southern divisions, as is now done during the baseball season.

Conference approval always has been required for members to participate in bowl games, but it heretofore has consisted of the formality of polling conference members after a bid has been accepted.

This year, however, Maryland's unbeaten and untied Terps agreed to play Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl without polling members.

Conference members were polled by Clemson, which agreed to play Miami (Fla.) in the Gator Bowl. When the Tigers were turned down in their poll, they went ahead and accepted the invitation without approval.

Five Teams Set For City Cage League Play

The Escanaba Basketball association made plans for opening its season next week with a five-team schedule, it was announced by President Paul Vardigan following a meeting last night.

An effort will be made to find a sixth team to round out the city league, but if that is impossible the circuit will get under way with only five.

A $15 entry fee will be due before game time next Thursday night. All games will be played at the Escanaba Junior high school gymnasium.

Although the league gets under way next week, a special double-header opening night program is planned for Thursday night, Jan. 10.

City teams joining the league last night were Harnischfeger, Kessler's Bar, Mike's Bar, Al's Tavern and the Independents.

Talus, the Greek, is said to have invented the saw when he found the jawbone of a snake and employed it to cut through a small piece of wood.

U. S. Tennis Stars Grab Doubles Win

MELBOURNE, Australia —(AP)—Lennart Bergelin failed his Swedish teammates badly again today as Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert won the doubles and clinched the Davis Cup tennis cup interzone final for America.

The player who was supposed to be his country's ace in the hole collapsed almost completely after a good start, enabling Ted and Tony to come from behind and triumph easily, 10-12, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Sven Davidson, Bergelin's youthful partner put up a spirited battle all the way and never ceased trying, but the load was too much for one man to carry.

6,000 Crowd

Bergelin's foltup was a big disappointment to the crowd of 6,000 which had hoped at least to witness a good doubles match after yesterday's one-sided singles.

There was no valid explanation for Bergelin's abject failure to play his game. His teammates were extremely unhappy about it.

"If there had been two Davidsons out there today we might have had a Swedish victory," said Frank Shields, captain of the U. S. team.

The first set, which required 41 minutes, was marked only by failure of the American pair to play anything like their best tennis. The next three sets, which took only 47 minutes, were distinguished by Bergelin's failure to hold his service in five straight tries.

Despite the one-sided scores in the last three sets, Schroeder and Trabert showed little to worry the Australians in the challenge round at Sydney, Dec. 26-28. The Aussies' two jewels, Frank Sedgeman and Ken McGregor, likely would lick them in straight sets on today's form.

Schroeder Not Sharp

Trabert played his usual steady doubles game and got progressively better after the first set, but the American team needs Schroeder at his brilliant best to be a threat to the Aussies.

Schroeder's fluctuating form promises to pose a real problem for Shields after the team flies back to Sydney Sunday and renews practice for the challenge round.

With victory already decided, tomorrow's concluding singles will supply a dismal climax to the one-sided series here. Shields said he would stick with Schroeder and Trabert while Gunner Galin, the Swedish captain, said he hadn't decided, but might change his lineup.

The American team will formally be announced Saturday or Sunday. It almost certainly will be Schroeder, Trabert, Vic Seixas and Dick Savitt.

Hawk Six To Hold First Workout On Marquette Rink

With the freezing of natural ice at the Escanaba indoor rink in the exhibition building delayed for various reasons, the Escanaba Hockey association has made definite arrangements for the first practice of the season on artificial ice at the Marquette Palestra from 7 to 10 Sunday night.

It is only fitting that the first workout be held on Marquette ice because that will be the scene of the first Michigan-Wisconsin Hockey league clash of the season next Thursday night—the Escanaba Hawks vs. the Marquette Sentinels.

Hawk Prospects

Fans recall readily the many interesting scraps between Escanaba and Marquette last winter, and local fans also recall happily that the newborn Hawks, a team built right from scratch at the very outset of the season, had a decided edge in this series.

Some idea of how they will fare this season will be gained from the opening practice Sunday night and the league battle next Thursday night.

Hawk players expected to be on hand for the initial workout are Marc and Ted Olson and Tony Ricci, the former Michigan Tech puck trio; Guy Poce, the scrapper from Virginia, Minn.; Ben and Julius Artwich, of Stambaugh; Edwin Broughton, Manistique candidate; Eino Maki, Neil Sinclair, Billy Bovin and Les Young, the Gladstone quartet, and the following Escanaba puck-chasers, Buddy Provo, George Petaja, Carl Eastman, Paul Goymerac, Dick Brockbank and possibly Don Jacobs.

Bechtolds Coming

Slated to arrive right after Christmas are Walter Bechtold and his uncle, Cecil Bechtold, both of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada. Other talented players in Eveleth, Duluth and Detroit are being contacted to give Escanaba a team that can hold its own in the fast M-W loop.

Manager Waino Petaja and Coach Mark Olson request all players to meet at the Escanaba Motor company at 4:30 Sunday afternoon to make the trip to Marquette. The Hawks are slated to take the ice at 7 p. m. The Artwich brothers will drive directly to Marquette from Stambaugh and meet the rest of the Hawks at the Palestra.

Hockey sidelihts: Meanwhile, plans are underway to provide a regulation-size outdoor hockey rink west and across the street from the Escanaba high school . . . The emphasis throughout the league this season, with the exception of Eagle, River, Wis., is on development of junior hockey and home town talent . . . Escanaba must have outsiders to develop hockey talent here, but the long-term goal is to provide hockey facilities here so that Escanaba youngsters may one day play this fast and exciting game in Upper Michigan-Wisconsin competition.

Brit Hall, genial 1950-51 Escanaba prexy, says "Our troubles are over now; we've heard from Tony Galery, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich." . . . How many remember Shrewd Tony, who promised us enough hockey talent last year to win the Olympics? . . . He was Escanaba's first contact to build a team for M-W competition . . . But he didn't last long . . . The hockey-playing Olsons are still very prominent this season . . . Marc and Ted in Escanaba, Weldon on the first line at Michigan State College, Wesley, Allan and Gordon managing and coaching the Marquette team, and 1950-pundit Eddy Olson still playing professional hockey with the Cleveland Barons.

Edwin M. Broughton, Jr. of Manistique, is taking a lot of interest in development of hockey in this area . . . If Manistique can provide a boarded-up outdoor rink, Marquette and Escanaba have agreed to play an exhibition game there . . . Manistique is a red-hot sports town, and the consensus is that hockey there would be a natural . . . In addition to playing for the Hawks, Broughton may start a junior hockey program in Manistique . . . That is exactly what Calumet, Houghton, Marquette and Escanaba are pointing toward.

Stephenson Is At Negaunee Tonight; Here On Saturday

The Stephenson Eagles, who provide the opposition for Coach Tom St. Germain's St. Joe Trojans here tomorrow night, have a stern test on their hands tonight.

Stephenson travels to Negaunee this evening to face the potent Miners of Coach Bob Carey, undefeated to date.

The Eagles opened their season last week by dropping a 51-41 verdict to the Menominee Maroons.

St. Joe winds up its pre-Christmas activity with the game here tomorrow night. The Trojans will enter the Parochial school tournament at Marquette which gets under way Dec. 26.

Early Leaders Are Posted In All-Star Keg

CHICAGO — (AP) — Consistent rolling by Chicago's Carl Berger and a come-from-behind finish by defending champion Mrs. Marion Ladewig gave them individual leadership after the first day of final competition in the national all-star bowling tournament.

Berger took over the men's lead after the first round yesterday morning and at midnight, which marked the end of four rounds, he was still ahead. Berger won 12 of 16 games, rolling an average 214 per game for a 3,420-pin total, and scoring 80.20 Petersen points.

Mrs. Ladewig, the Grand Rapids, Mich., sharpshooter, was far behind Ruth Jensen of Chicago at the end of two rounds. Then, in four games last night, she shot a total of 909 to take over the women's leadership with 29.29 Petersen points.

The defending women's champion has won 5½ games and lost 2½.

There are 16 finalists in each division. The finals end Sunday night.

Steve Nagy of Cleveland was in second place in the men's division with 77.20 Petersen points. His pin total was 3,370 in winning 10 of his 16 games.

Newberry Seeks First Victory In Great Lakes

NEWBERRY—Victory No. 1 in the Great Lakes Conference will be the goal of Coach Joe Rousseau's Newberry Indians when they invade Marquette Friday night to battle Coach Stan Sosnoski's Marquette Redmen cagers.

The Indians have been successful against non-loop foes, vanquishing Brimley 37-35 and Canadian Sault Collegiate 38-37 in two outings. The Tribe has had difficulty against loop foes, however, losing to Munising 42-30 and Negaunee 59-28.

Marquette's Redmen won their first game of the season last week, thumping Sault Ste. Marie 56-47. Previously the red and white clad cagers had been defeated by Munising 40-27 and Escanaba 48-36.

By comparative scores with common foes, the contest rates as a tossup. The Indians fell before Munising by a 12-point margin, while Marquette dropped a 13-point decision.

Probable starters for Newberry Friday night will be Tommy Taylor and either Harold Westman or Jack Londo at the forward posts, Hank Haapalainen at the center position and Terry Brennan and Charley Villeneuve at the guards.

St. Joe Girls Post First Basketball Win

The St. Joe girls basketball team posted its first win of the season at Stephenson this week, downing the Eagles 23-16.

The St. Joe junior boys made it a clean sweep by beating the Stephenson juniors 43-18 in the preliminary.

Ed Lopat Calls Japanese Baseball Fans Most Ardent

BY JOHNNY McCALLUM
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Edmund Walter Lopat, despite what he has heard about Puerto Ricans, says the most zealous baseball fans are the Japanese.

They are the Phi Beta Kaps of baseball. The game is not the story. The addict steals the show. He undoubtedly is the most academic in the sport.

Eddie Lopat accompanied major and minor leaguers to Nippon, where the squad played a 16-game schedule.

"The day before the first game, against the Yomiuri Giants 20,000 fans turned out just to watch us practice," stresses the Yankees' star southpaw.

Fans and players brought cameras, notebooks—and interpreters.

Nahma Seeks Top Spot In Central Cage Loop In Home Game Tonight

Nahma will be seeking the undisputed lead in the U. P. Central basketball league tonight in its home stand against Perkins.

Nahma rests atop the standings with Rapid River, each with three wins and no losses. Coach Norman Slough's Rapid River quint does not play tonight.

Other league action has Powers at Cooks in a conference tilt and Rock at Eben in a non-league game tonight.

Free Throw Line Gives Spartans 50-48 Cage Win

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Three last-second free throws provided the margin here last night as Michigan State over an early lead and then managed to fight off a second half comeback to beat Denver's basketball team, 50-48.

Denver went ahead, 48-47, for the first time in the game when center Dave Toft put in a tip shot with less than two minutes to go.

But forward Bill Bower, who made six points on free throws, hit a pair of gift shots to put Michigan State back in the lead, and Ricki Ayala, five-foot five-inch guard, dropped in another to make the final score.

Fast Start

Michigan State was red hot the first quarter. The Spartans sank their first five shots and led 21-4 at the quarter. Michigan State had a comfortable 32-22 edge at the half, but faded in the third quarter, making only two shots in 16 tries.

Denver crept up to trail 36-35 in the third quarter and then made its unsuccessful last-minute bid.

Sophomore center Denny Hartman was top man for Michigan State with 10 points. Bob Carey, the all-America end in football, made five points in a brief stint at center, his first appearance on the court since the end of the football season.

Michigan State scored on 16 of 60 tries from the floor. The Denver shooting averaged was 15 baskets in 47 attempts. MSC now has won the two games in its young season. The loss gave Denver a 2-2 record.

Gavilan Takes On Cartier In Non-Title Bout

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cuban Kid Gavilan—the man with the iron jaw—tests Walter Cartier's .500 plus knockout average tonight in an interesting Madison Square Garden pairing.

You can watch (NBC-TV) or listen (ABC) at 10:00 p. m. (EST) when welter Champ Gavilan again ventures into the middle-weight division in a non-title 10-round.

In 93 fights, only Ike Williams was able to knock Gavilan down—and he couldn't keep him there. In fact Gavilan won two of their three bouts.

It's often the same story when Gavilan pegs away—nothing happens. His record shows 77 wins with 22 knockouts but most of the KOs came in lesser fights.

Gavilan's flashy moves, his two-step rhumba and bolo are eye-catchers. But he seldom drops an opponent. He's only a 6 to 5 favorite over Cartier.

Cartier, 27, has won 20 in a row since he was knocked out by Rocky Castellani, at St. Nicholas Arena in 1948.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Omaha, Neb.—Harry "Kid" Matthews, 178, Seattle, knocked out Art Henri, 189, New York, 2.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Chuck Davey, 144½, Lansing, Mich., stopped Chuck Taylor, 148½, Coalport, Pa., 7.

Akron, O.—Clarence Hines, 182, Los Angeles, knocked out Walter Hater, 208, Washington, D. C., 2.

New York (Sunnyside Garden)—Jackie O'Brien, 140, Verdien, Conn., outpointed Phil Morizio, 136½, New York, 8.

Troy, N. Y.—Joe Baksi, 225, Kulpmont, Pa., stopped Jimmy Rouse, 196, Albany, N. Y., 5.

Austin, Tex.—Pete Gil, 153, Austin, knocked out Corky Calahan, 150, Chicago, 1.

Eskymos Travel To Ishpeming For First Road Game Tonight

Escanaba's undefeated Eskymo cagers left by bus for Ishpeming and their road baptismal of the 1951-52 basketball campaign at the Hematite gym tonight.

Coach Steve Baltic's Eskys will be facing their toughest opposition to date at the home of the always-tough Hematites. Escanaba has two wins under its belt thus far this season.

The Eskymos had an easy time in the opener here two weeks ago, downing the defending class B champions, Marquette, by a 46-35 plus knockout average tonight in an interesting Madison Square Garden pairing.

to an even 10 players.

The starting five will remain the same, but positions have been shuffled. Paul Gunderman, who has been operating from a guard position, has been shifted to forward. JoJo Johnston drops back to fill the guard hole. With Johnston at the other guard will be Jim Heiden. Tom Smith fills the other forward spot. Paul Baldwin will start at center.

Reserves likely will see action, with George Bartley, Francis Artley, Nick Prokos, Con Michael and John Peterson available for relief duty at any time.

"Tough One"

"We realize this is a tough one and have been shooting all week for our best performance. The boys have looked good in practice and spirit is high," Coach Baltic said.

The Ishpeming attack is based on high-scoring Terry Thompson, all-star cager from last season. Thompson usually accounts for a majority of his team's scoring punch.

Ishpeming will be aiming for its fifth straight win of the season tonight. The Hematites have beaten Stambaugh (55-49), Iron Mountain (53-31), Munising (60-34) and Calumet (37-32).

The Escanaba Bee squad is also making the trip and will take on the Ishpeming reserves in a 7 o'clock preliminary game.

Michigan Athletic Policy Due For Reconsideration

ANN ARBOR—(AP)—A "reconsideration" of athletics policy at University of Michigan was indicated today following a meeting of the university's athletic board.

University spokesmen would not say what is being planned. But president Harlan H. Hatcher said that "the national athletic picture has been magnified to such an extent that we may have to reconsider policy and take a positive announced stand."

Hatcher spoke last night just before the university's board in control of intercollegiate athletics went into a closed session.

Discussed Policies
Afterwards Arthur Brandon, vice president in charge of university relations, said the meeting was in the nature of "orientation" for president Hatcher at which "policies and procedures" were discussed.

However mathematics professor Harry Carver, a recent critic of Michigan's athletic program, said "plans" were discussed which he did not detail.

Carver indicated it would be premature to talk about what the board might do, saying "it might defeat the honest effort to improve the general athletic picture."

Carver had accused athletic director Fritz Crisler of having one-man control of athletic affairs. Crisler, an ex-officio member of the athletic board, attended the meeting but had no comment on its proceedings.

Bureau Of Mines Adopts New Respiration Method

A new back-pressure, arm-lift method of manual artificial respiration has been adopted by the Bureau of Mines and will soon be included in first aid courses given by Bureau instructors to miners and others in the minerals industries. Director John J. Forbes has informed Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman in Washington, D. C.

The improved method was developed by a Dane—Holger Nielsen—and has been accepted by the Bureau and other government and industrial organizations simultaneously as superior to other methods as the result of extensive tests by outstanding medical men of Harvard University, the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Illinois, and Springfield College. The tests were initiated by the American Red Cross and the National Research Council.

More Air Exchanged

Among other things, the tests revealed that in the Holger Nielsen method about a quart of air is exchanged in the victim's lungs, while in the heretofore standard Schafer method the amount of air exchanged is about a pint, it was pointed out.

Director Forbes said that the adoption of the new artificial respiration method does not mean that the Schafer or Sylvester methods will be abandoned by the Bureau of Mines.

"On the contrary," he said, "there are many instances where they will be the only methods possible to use in a mine, such as in cases where the victim's arm may be injured, or when injuries prevent the victim from being placed face down." The new method will augment the other methods now being taught.

The Nielsen method is described as follows: place the victim in a face down, prone position, bending his elbows and placing the hands one upon the other on which to rest his head sideways. After removing any foreign objects and false teeth from the mouth, and seeing that the tongue is forward, the operator kneels on either one or both knees at the head of the victim, placing the hands flat on the victim's back just below a line running between the arm pits with the tips of the thumbs just touching and the fingers spread down and outward. The first movement consists of exerting a slow, even pressure on the back of the victim, thus forcing the air out of the lungs. After releasing the pressure, the victim's arms are drawn upward with enough "lift" applied to feel some resistance and tension at the victim's shoulders. This forces air back into the lungs and completes the cycle. The back-pressure arm-lift movements require about 5 seconds so that 12 complete cycles per minute can be maintained.

In addition to the fact that the Nielsen method causes a greater exchange of air, medical experts pointed out that it can easily be applied by a light individual upon a heavy adult, and that it is less tiring than other methods.

Manuals describing in detail the Holger Nielsen method are now being prepared by the Bureau, and will soon be on their way to the Bureau's first aid instructors throughout the Bureau's eight regions.
